

Annual C of C Dinner Here Tonight at 7

All indications point to a near capacity crowd for the annual membership meeting and banquet of Hope Chapter of Commerce at 7 tonight at Hotel Barlow.

The principal address will be by Kenneth Pat Wilcox, Jacksonville banker and president of the State C of C. He will be introduced by George Frazier.

Others appearing on the program will be William P. Rock, executive director of the Arkansas Development Commission, who'll present the local chamber's award; J. J. Stead of the State C of C will present the blueprint for progress road signs award.

There will be short talks by Cliff Bridges, retiring president of the Hope C of C and William R. (Bill) Caldwell, newly elected president.

Haskell Jones will preside over the meeting as MC and will introduce special guests, among whom will be Ray Taylor, Chief of Community Services AIDC of Little Rock; Cole Castletaw, Industrial Development Council of Arkansas Power & Light Co.; C. L. Leighton, district manager of Southwestern Electric Power Co., of DeQueen and also others.

The invocation will be given by Dr. George Balentine, pastor of First Baptist Church of Hope, and dinner music will be by the courtesy of Radio Station KXAR. Flower arrangements and decorations of the dining room, by Hope Garden Clubs.

The menu will be buffet style and includes southern fried chicken, roast beef, baked ham, brown rice, scalloped potatoes, green beans, Brussels sprouts, tossed green salad, fruit salad, relish tray, hot rolls, assorted home made pies, coffee, tea and milk.

A total of 250 tickets were printed and will be sold until the supply is exhausted.

No Wonder It Didn't Go Right

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A motorist drove into a garage outside Odense and complained his car wouldn't go as fast as usual.

The attendant found another car hanging on to the rear bumper. It had caught on when the motorist maneuvered out of a parking space two miles away.

30,000 French Police Ready for Violence

By DAVID M. MASON

PARIS (AP) — Thirty thousand police and riot forces stood by in the Paris region today as worried government officials girded for possible street clashes and other violence.

Security forces were concentrated to counter a banned demonstration scheduled for late afternoon on the vast Place de la Republique in eastern Paris. The French Socialist party called for a "peaceful but energetic" demonstration against the right-wing Secret Army Organization and against police repression of demonstrations last Thursday which left eight dead and hundreds injured.

The French Communist party quickly summoned its militants to join the Socialists "shoulder to shoulder" and other leftist organizations backed the demonstration call.

The government sternly recalled that all street demonstrations are banned under the state of emergency in effect in France since last April's abortive Algerian uprising. Interior Minister Roger Frey warned in a nationwide radio-TV speech that unless the demonstration organizers back down, the forces of order "will do their duty and prevent the demonstration."

Premier Michel Debre made an unusual visit to the Interior Ministry today to confer with law enforcement chiefs and to express the government's confidence in their ability to maintain order.

Rockefeller Denies Swing to 'Right'

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he is not "swinging to the right."

The potential Republican presidential candidate in 1964 was asked on a nationwide television program Sunday night if he was becoming more conservative in his politics.

"Not in the slightest," he snapped.

He appeared on American Broadcasting Co., "Issues and Answers."

Earlier, he had conceded that he might have been passed over as the GOP's 1960 presidential nominee because he was "too liberal."

Rockefeller said his criticism of the Kennedy administration's plan for a department of urban affairs reflected unhappiness with the form of the proposal rather than with the concept. He said the proposal rejected by the House Rules Committee bypassed the states when it should have "worked through and with the states."

Noting that President Kennedy has announced plans to name Negro Robert C. Weaver as first secretary of urban affairs, Rockefeller said he thought it unfair that opponents of the plan itself who questioned its merits should "be attacked as anti-Negro."

The recent meeting of the Organization of American States on Cuba was a failure for the United States because it revealed a split in the ranks of Western Hemisphere powers—a split caused in part by the lack of enough advance consultation, he said.

The governor criticized the Kennedy administration's handling of the Cuban invasion, but made clear it was "the failure, not the policy" that he opposed. He said that had been president he would have gone ahead with the invasion but would have given American air and naval support.

No Gifts, Weights Men Warned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Weights and Standards Division of the State Police has sent division employees a memorandum warning them against accepting gifts from truck drivers.

The memo followed a charge by the new Arkansas Independent Truckers Association that truckers have been victims of "shake-downs and other abuses" by the division, which enforces truck load regulations.

The memo from Maj. Roy L. Johnson, head of the division, told employees that state regulations forbid accepting gifts such as drop-off parcels from truckers, and that taking them might make their motives suspect.

Johnson declined to comment, but another official said the memo had no relation to the complaint registered by the truckers' association. He said similar warnings had been sent to division employees in the past.

The memo said that there are reports of certain truck drivers leaving a crate or a sack of whatever product they may be hauling with the weight station officials.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Friday he had heard complaints about the Weights and Standards Division and had asked the State Police to investigate.

Faubus said he had heard that some truckers were falsely reporting to bosses that they had been forced to give part of their cargo to weight station employees, when the truth of the matter was that the trucker had sold part of the cargo and pocketed the money.

The Weights and Standards Division operates 18 permanent weight stations on major highways near the state's borders and maintains several roving weight crews.

Russia May Free Another American

By CHARLES L. WEST

NEW YORK (AP) — The only American known to be still behind bars in the Soviet Union may soon be released, says the Brooklyn lawyer who negotiated the U.S.-Soviet spy swap.

But, he added, it is contingent upon an improvement in relations between the two countries.

The prospect of freedom for Marvin Makinen, 22, a Fulbright scholar serving eight years on spy charges, was expressed Sunday night by James Britt Donovan.

Donovan said the subject of Makinen's release came up during his talks with Ivan Shishkin, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Communist East Germany.

The negotiations resulted in the United States' freeing Col. Rudolf Abel, a Soviet master spy serving 30 years in prison; the Soviet Union freeing Francis Gary Powers, the American U2 pilot serving 10 years, and East Germany freeing Frederick L. Pryor, an American student who had been held without trial since Aug. 25.

Donovan, who was Abel's court-appointed American lawyer in the colonel's 1957 trial for espionage, said he viewed the Soviet and East German actions as "a genuine attempt to secure better relations."

He added: "I have what I believe to be assurance that if the better relations contemplated by this exchange should develop, the Soviet Union would contemplate extending clemency to Makinen."

This may be expected "in the near future," Donovan said, "I regard the negotiations as concluded."

Officials at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow said they had no information about the possibility of Makinen's release.

Makinen, who was studying at the Free University in West Berlin, was seized last July 27 and accused of photographing military installations in Hungary, Czechoslovakia and the Ukraine. He was convicted of espionage, and is in prison at Kiev.

Indonesia in Cold Welcome to Kennedy

By PETER ARNETT

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived in Indonesia today for a six day visit. Before his arrival soldiers scratched off anti-American slogans crudely painted along his route into the capital.

The airliner that brought Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, touched down at the Jakarta airport three hours late. Indonesian Atty. Gen. Gunawan, who had invited Kennedy to visit the Socialist island republic, led the welcoming party.

Kennedy and his wife had flown from Hong Kong to Singapore, and they used their unexpected stopover there for a fast sight-seeing drive about the British Commonwealth Island.

Indonesian youths painted signs saying "Kennedy go home" and "United States no, Indonesia yes" on walls and buildings. They also handed out posters and leaflets.

Told of the signs during his stop at Singapore, Kennedy said smilingly, "I've seen them before."

Indonesians were annoyed because the United States permitted chartered Dutch airliners with uniformed troops aboard to refuel on U.S. territory en route to West New Guinea. Last week students stoned the U.S. embassy here in protest. The United States has banned such flights but commercial Dutch airliners carrying troops in civilian clothes can still land on U.S. territory.

Kennedy will have several meetings with President Sukarno — whom he has met before — and other government officials, including anti-Communist Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, the national security minister.

On the eve of Kennedy's arrival the Indonesian army sent 10,000 jungle fighters to eastern Indonesia, apparently to start infiltration of West New Guinea.

The United States favors negotiations between Indonesia and the Netherlands in hopes of reaching a settlement.

Kennedy was carrying a letter from his brother, the President, to Sukarno but the contents were not made public.

This is Kennedy's fourth major stop on his trip. After Japan, he had an unexpectedly prolonged stay in Formosa before continuing on to Hong Kong where he had planned a weekend rest.

But he and his wife refused to let up in the pace they set in Japan. They visited a teeming resettlement area of Hong Kong Sunday and the attorney general skipped rope with children, helped pass out relief noodles to the needy, sampled free milk and cookies, fired off scores of questions and shook hundreds of hands.

Later he cruised around Hong Kong island in a U.S. Navy barge and wound up his day by putting on a pair of scotch plaid trunks and going for a swim with Mrs. Kennedy in Repulse Bay.

Two Hempstead students have been elected officers of the newly reorganized Southern State College Square Dance Club. Don Oglesby, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Oglesby, will serve as president and Richard McMurtrey, son of V. G. McMurtrey of Palmos Rt. 1, is vice president.

Three Hempstead students at Southern State are on the semester Dean's list with a grade-point average of 3.50 or better. They are Richard Greenhaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Greenhaw, Leo R. McPherson, and Gary Martindale, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martindale of Nashville Rt. 2 (Bingen). Greenhaw is a freshman engineering major and recipient of an honor scholarship. McPherson is a senior industrial management major and Martindale is an agriculture major.

The VFW will meet Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the hut. This is an important business meeting.

2 Die From Monoxide Poisoning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Pochontas men were found dead in a car of carbon monoxide poisoning Sunday. Their deaths brought to 10 the number of persons who died violently in Arkansas in the week ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims were Ted Helms, 38, and Sam Morris Jr., 42. Their bodies were found in Helms' car, parked in front of Morris' home 12 miles north of Pochontas.

Officers said the men apparently were sitting in the car talking when they were overcome by the fumes.

Three persons died in traffic accidents in Arkansas last week, two in fires, and one each by electrocution, stabbing and in a fall.

Samuel Bunton, 56, of Russellville, fell to feet to his death from the top of a lumber company kiln Sunday. He was working atop the kiln at the Bibler Bros. Lumber Co. He was found dead some time later by his brother, Clyde Bunton.

Willie Cox, 31, Negro of North Little Rock, was stabbed to death Friday night outside a North Little Rock cafe and another Negro, Johnny Green, 17, was held on an open charge in connection with the death.

Dale Ayers, 71, of Booneville, was found dead Saturday in his pickup truck, which had plunged off state Highway 22 and overturned in Six Mile Creek. Ayers was pinned inside the cab. The accident occurred six miles west of Paris.

West Will Turn Down Russia's Summit Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has proposed an 18-nation summit conference on disarmament to meet in Geneva in little more than a month. The West seemed certain to turn down the proposal, though a later summit session seems a definite possibility.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Khrushchev's plan today. The proposal was contained in a letter to President Kennedy delivered at the State Department Sunday morning.

In the letter Khrushchev proposed that the 18-nation disarmament conference—scheduled to begin March 14 in Geneva—start work at the summit level.

It was understood that the session would be confined to the single subject of disarmament, based on a set of principles agreed to by the United States and the Soviet Union at the United Nations last September.

What stand the United States and its allies, and perhaps a number of non-aligned countries, will take in response to the Khrushchev proposal will be determined in urgent consultations expected to begin immediately.

The White House and State Department declined any immediate comment as word of the reported new Khrushchev maneuver quickly circulated through the capital.

There appeared to be no likelihood whatever that Kennedy would agree to a meeting with Khrushchev and other government chiefs at the outset of the March 14 talks.

The President often has said there must be adequate advance preparations for a summit conference. He told a recent news conference he did not think a meeting with Khrushchev would be advisable under present conditions.

However, if the Geneva disarmament group can make progress toward translating general principles of disarmament into concrete programs of action, there is reason to believe Kennedy might be willing to go to a summit meeting at a late stage of the negotiations, the Geneva group is to report to the United Nations June 1.

The new Soviet proposition reportedly was delivered when Mikhail N. Smirnovsky, ranking official at the Soviet Embassy, met Sunday morning with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the State Department. Smirnovsky reportedly gave Rusk a seven-page letter from Khrushchev addressed to Kennedy.

Rusk immediately got in touch with the President, who was spending the weekend at Middleburg, Va. Late in the afternoon Rusk called in the ambassadors of Britain, France, Italy and Canada.

The Khrushchev letter is said to have been sent in reply to a proposal which Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan made to him last Thursday. It called for the Geneva meeting to be opened by foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

In effect, Khrushchev raised the bid by suggesting that the 18-nation session be opened not by foreign ministers but by heads of government.

The Soviet leader is reported to have told Kennedy that the issues involved in disarmament were far too serious to be left to "bureaucrats"—by which he made clear he meant the foreign ministers.

The set of disarmament principles on which the United States and the Soviet Union agreed last fall calls for various stages of supervised disarmament aimed at dismantling national military forces and arsenals.

The United States at the time pointed up at the United Nations the failure to agree on the critically important requirements of an international inspections system. The inspection problem, in the western view, poses the major obstacle in the way of the forthcoming Geneva negotiations.

Khrushchev's letter to Kennedy reportedly made no direct reference to nuclear test ban negotiations.

Powers Faces Quiz From U. S. Intelligence

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — American U2 spy pilot Francis Gary Powers faces detailed grilling from U.S. intelligence agents when he completes a secret rendezvous with his wife.

Among questions awaiting the flier, free after 21 months in a Soviet prison, are: What really happened the morning of May 1, 1960, when he was downed deep inside the Soviet Union? How much did he tell the Russians about his mission?

Preliminary questioning, presumably begun shortly after the 32-year-old pilot crossed a Berlin bridge into American hands Saturday in a two-for-one trade for Soviet spy Rudolf I. Abel.

Official sources are not saying Powers is in military or government custody, but ever since he crossed a white line where Communist East Germany ends and West Berlin begins, a carefully contrived secrecy has cloaked his movements.

All the White House would say in a brief announcement Sunday was that Powers was home again and that he had been reunited with members of his family.

In a far-flung game of hide-and-seek dogged newsmen tried to find out for themselves where Powers and his wife, Barbara, were holding their reunion. Various leads pointed to Maryland's Eastern Shore, but the exact meeting place could not be pinned down.

The White House declined to say what family members Powers saw but presumably he met also with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers, of Norton Va.

The Central Intelligence Agency was believed to be setting up a board of inquiry to look fully into the Powers case. CIA Director John A. McCone will determine the board's composition.

Another figure in the unprecedented exchange arrived home Sunday, James Britt Donovan, the New York lawyer who defended Abel in his 1957 espionage trial and then negotiated his deportation in a trade for Powers and student Frederic Pryor, brought word still another American imprisoned in the Soviet Union may win his freedom. Marvin W. Makinen, 22, a student from Ashburnham, Mass., is serving an eight-year sentence in Kiev on espionage charges.

Donovan said: "I have what I believe to be assurance that if the better relations contemplated by this exchange should develop, the Soviet Union would contemplate extending clemency to Makinen."

The White House statement on Powers said that "as previously stated, he will be interviewed by appropriate U. S. government officials."

The United States has said he was a Lockheed test pilot working under a National Aeronautics and Space Administration contract when he was downed in a high-altitude photographic mission 1,240 miles inside the Soviet Union. It is generally assumed that the CIA directed the operation.

Steel Users Stockpile

Rainfall in California Seems Over

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's sixth day of saturation started spectacularly today as cloudbursts opened up on parts of the Los Angeles area, creating lakes up to seven feet deep.

There were flash floods in the Hollywood Hills and a house at 2934 Beachwood Dr. was torn loose from its foundation and pushed into the street.

Storm drain covers were popping open from excessive pressure in many parts of the city.

A woman at 6456 Deep Dell Place in the Hollywood Hills reported water was rushing through her living room.

At the intersection of Sunset Boulevard and Pacific Coast Highway early this morning the water was seven feet deep.

It was four feet deep on Vermont Avenue between 88th and 90th streets in Los Angeles. It was over the rooftops of automobiles at some other points.

The police flood control office said all major streets in the Hollywood area were awash.

More than 20 deaths had been attributed to the storm—one of the heaviest in the area's history—before today's violent downpours.

Nearly eight inches of rain had fallen in Los Angeles since the storm started last Wednesday.

Two children died Sunday under tons of mud. An elderly man fell into a 55-foot well shaft and was believed dead. Three other persons were presumed drowned.

Earlier in the storm a boy drowned in a flood control channel and a woman was crushed to death by a tree that had been undermined by rain.

Police blamed 15 traffic deaths on the storm.

Dams overflowed over the weekend sending water into some homes and imprisoning other residents on isolated knolls. Scores of major intersections were closed.

Residents in Fontana, east of Los Angeles, reported a damaging twister kicked up by winds accompanying the rain.

More than seven inches of rain had fallen in Los Angeles. More than 20 inches fell at Juncal Dam in Santa Barbara County and several mountain areas reported 14 inches.

Season rainfall totals were running five inches above normal in the Los Angeles area, the first time they have been above normal in several years.

Dennis Ray Milne, 9, apparently died in his sleep when tumbling hillside muck burst into his bedroom in suburban Monterey Park.

Laurence Bennett Freed, 2½, died when a section of a cliff gave way and demolished the rear of his family's house in the Sherman Oaks district. Police advised nearby residents to evacuate.

James Fowlie, 20, hasn't been seen since he launched a rubber raft on a flood control channel in the Highland Park district Sunday. He is presumed drowned.

An innertube rider, John Clements, was swept away in a creek near Ventura when the tube overturned. John Reed disappeared when his boat failed to negotiate rapids of the Santa Clara River.

Mudslides pushed in the windows of actress Tuesday Weld's home and splattered into her swimming pool. Actor Richard Boone fought the oozing brown mess to save his home.

Residents evacuated 20 homes in Frazier Park, a community halfway between Los Angeles and Bakersfield, shortly before a dam spillway gave way and sent wa-

Ike Presses for Younger Candidates

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported to have told Republicans he has no intention of campaigning for "old men" in this year's elections.

Eisenhower, who is 71, was represented as pressing party members to work for the nomination of young candidates for governor and Senate and House seats.

Some confidantes quoted him as saying he wanted no "gray-haired old men" running on the GOP ticket if it could be helped.

This serve-the-youth movement apparently led the former president into some difficulties in his adopted state of Pennsylvania. He convinced Sen. Hugh Scott in a telephone conversation that Scott ought to make himself available for the party nomination for governor.

Scott reported that Eisenhower said he could support actively a ticket on which Scott was a member but could not campaign for a ticket on which Judge Robert ter coursed into six homes. Water from another dam roared five feet deep through Big Tujunga Wash in the San Fernando Valley. It blocked the only exit road for 25 hillside families.

Ground Broke for Hospital Building

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fifty doctors and dentists break ground today in a mammoth endeavor—a $1.5 million medical building on University Ave. here.

The medical men and dentists have incorporated as the Little Rock Land Co. They have awarded an earth-moving contract to the Pickney Price Construction Co. of Little Rock and work will begin immediately.

The general construction contract will be awarded in May and the building is to be completed by the end of 1963.

It will be eight stories tall and will house the offices of about 60 doctors and dentists and auxiliary firms such as a drug store and surgical supply store.

The upper six floors will house the doctors' offices. On an arcade level will be a drive-in bank, an X-ray supply shop, a beauty parlor, surgical supply shop and barber shop.

On the ground floor will be a drug store, and a radiological suite with a cobalt unit.

A parking lot with a capacity of 300 cars will surround the building. A lower parking area will accommodate 150 cars of doctors and technicians.

Dr. Barney P. Briggs is president of the company and will preside at the ground-breaking ceremonies.

Some Other Presidents Did Same

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has distinguished himself in refusing to let Congress get too nosy. Presidents from Washington to Eisenhower have done the same.

Through American history presidents have reasoned this way: The Constitution separates the powers of the three branches of government: Congress, the executive headed by the President, and federal courts.

So the President can assert his "executive privilege"—when he thinks it's in the public interest—to refuse Congress' request for certain information from the executive branch.

Who decides what's in the public interest? The President says he does in such a case. Does he have the right to refuse? He thinks so. The third branch, headed by the Supreme Court, has never ruled on it.

Congress has never forced it to a showdown. So it has only been a test of wills so far between presidents and Congress. Now Congress is heading into another test.

A Senate subcommittee investigating Pentagon censoring of speeches by the military brass has demanded that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara reveal the names of his men who censored specific speeches.

McNamara refused. Wednesday Kennedy backed him up publicly. McNamara has given the committee his censors' names and background. But he will not disclose which one of them changed what in what speech.

If he did, almost certainly the individual censors would be called before the subcommittee and extensively quizzed on why he did what he did. Kennedy did not speak of this kind of thing as a quizzing.

He said it would be an "harassment" of men who were only carrying out policies dictated by their superiors. McNamara says he takes full responsibility for what they did.

Kennedy said he would invoke "executive privilege" if necessary to protect the censors. He may have to. The subcommittee decided to insist on its demand.

Eisenhower ran into the same kind of thing—and reacted the same way—in 1954 when a Senate committee holding the Army-McCarthy hearings demanded information about a secret meeting of Eisenhower's top aides.

Eisenhower at the time cited some other presidents who took the same position, from Washington to Truman. The latter refused Congress 10 times.

Eisenhower said: "The messages of our past presidents reveal that almost everyone of them found it necessary to inform Congress of his constitutional duty to execute the office of president and, in furtherance of that duty, to withhold information and papers for the public good."

By the reckoning of Herman Wilkinson, a Justice Department attorney and a specialist in this field, at least 18 of the 34 presidents at one time or another took this stand. Kennedy would be the 19th.

It could happen if the subcommittee on censorship wants a showdown: It could cite McNamara for contempt for refusing information. If the full Senate approved this, then:

1. The Senate sergeant-at-arms could be sent to arrest the secretary and the Senate could order him kept in custody indefinitely or sentence him to jail.

2. Or, more likely, having cited go to the Supreme Court in a hurry for a ruling at last.

DOROTHY DIX

Lincoln Had the Same Problem

By HELEN WOREN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Self-made and successful in business, I am used to solving my own problems, but one that has me stymied after 15 years of living with it: my wife. For to all intents my wife and I are happily married. We have an above average home, two fine children, and everything to make living easy.

In the beginning, the going was rough. My wife had the babies to look after, meals to get and a house to run. I was just starting in business and working overtime, but I would help out at home too — to keep peace. Children, housework, me — anything would send my wife into a fury.

She might be an angel when I left in the morning and a screaming devil by night. At first I thought it was because we were poor. It became an obsession to make money for her sake.

You see, I loved her and, in a way, still do. I succeeded beyond even my dreams. I built her a fine home, gave her a roadster for her own use, a station wagon to carry the kids, and charge accounts at all the stores.

Nothing satisfied her. Last fall I sent the kids to boarding school rather than subject them to this purgatory any longer. My wife and I are facing it out alone. I myself am nearing the breaking point. So is she.

Is there an answer to the problem? — J.

Dear J: Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday is today, had the same kind of wife. With such a handicap you either become a philosopher or you bolt.

Were it not for this harried of a wife, Lincoln might have been a happy man without a history. She could be likened to the grain of sand in the oyster which by irritation produces the pearl.

It is not what happens to you, but the way you take it, which matters. Given the fortitude to continue with the temperamental, insatiable wife of yours, you could follow the conventional course, remain married, and within the circumscribed framework, lead your own life.

Since material possessions didn't appease your wife, maybe more of the spiritual and less of the materialistic is the answer for you both. In any event, ask the advice of your family physician. He may prescribe a psychiatrist for your wife.

Dear Helen:—At 18 I was an unwed mother who wanted to keep my baby but couldn't provide for it. Praying I was doing the right thing, I gave it up before seeing what a sweetheart it was. Wanting desperately all the while to get it back, I kept the heartache to myself.

Eventually I married and moved to another state. My husband doesn't know the story to this day but our first two babies died and this I felt was God's punishment on me. Now we are blessed with more children and have returned after 10 years to my home town.

My husband loves me and I him, but I live in constant fear that a jealous woman friend of years gone by may tell him the truth. Should I have told him when we married? I don't know how to tell him now. Please print this. Maybe the jealous friend will read it and have mercy.

case over to the U.S. district attorney for prosecution in that third branch of government, the federal court, which has never ruled on this ancient dispute between the two other branches.

The President, of course, would be quickly involved in this fight on the side of McNamara and no doubt would push for the case to hurry for a ruling at last.

Anonymous for help. It doesn't work that way. Alcoholics Anonymous will only come at the alcoholic's request.

However, there is a group called Al-anon which is extremely helpful to families. It saved my marriage and indirectly steered my husband to sobriety for which I thank God daily. The Al-anon member learns to leave the problem to his or her alcoholic partner. "Let go and let God," is the premise upon which it is based. —Mrs. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: In advising the family of an alcoholic to call on Alcoholics Anonymous for help, I was thinking of the counsel Alcoholics Anonymous could give the family, which is exactly what happened on occasions I appealed to them about some alcoholic.

As a consequence, I went with these alcoholics to meetings not as a keeper but friend. Each understood full well that the only one who could help him was himself. Those readers who have similar problems and wish to join an Al-anon group, write to Al-anon Family Group Headquarters, P.O. Box 182, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Alcoholism."

Proposes U. S. Pay Part of Shelter Cost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration proposed today that the federal government pay a percentage of the cost of building public fallout shelters.

The proposal was made in a letter sent to Congress by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. He outlined recommended legislation to carry out the Civil Defense shelter program already announced by the government.

Under the proposal, the maximum federal "incentive payment" as McNamara called it, would be $25 per shelter space. That is, the federal payment would not run more than $25 for each person to be accommodated in the shelter.

The federal incentive payments would be only for public shelters. Although the Civil Defense Office is encouraging and advising on the building of home shelters, no financial assistance would be given for private shelters.

Estimated federal outlay for the first year of the program is $450 million, to provide shelter space for 20 million persons. Other shelter areas provided in existing structures are expected to increase the total shelter protection to 50 million spaces.

The federal subsidy—to schools, hospitals, welfare institutions and other nonprofit organizations operated by state or local governments—would be provided for construction of shelters to house 50 or more persons.

McNamara's letter said: "It is anticipated that the rate of incentive payments to eligible institutions will be set at $25 per approved shelter space, or the cost of shelter construction, whichever is less. The average incremental cost is estimated at $40 per shelter space"—$4 per square foot of floor space allowing 10 square feet for each shelter space.

New construction or changes in existing construction to provide shelter areas will be based on standards already existing in the Federal Civil Defense Act.

McNamara said that any payment made for shelter would be in addition to any other assistance in construction given to nonprofit institutions by the federal government, irrespective of whether such assistance was in the form of a loan or grant.

BROWNSTONE GOTHIC by Elizabeth Shenton

THE STORY: Hilda has met an unknown cousin, Matthew Russell, in whom she senses a friend—the only friend she has in this strange, household, with the exception of Jenny.

Chapter 7

"Go on, Hilda," Jenny urged. "I've always longed to know about my mysterious, unmentionable aunt."

"Not Jenny's fault," Cousin Matthew interceded. "Anything about Roseanne's always been hushed up around here. All I know is, she ran away to Boston, and never came back."

"She didn't run away," Hilda said, emphatically. "She went to visit a girl she'd come out with, who'd married a Bostonian. She met Adam Thorne at a ball, and they fell in love."

"Of course, he thought it was hopeless, because of the Russell money, but Roseanne insisted money didn't matter to her. She tried to get her brother's permission, but when it was refused, she finally convinced Adam, and they got married, anyway."

"Good for her!" Jenny's eyes sparkled with approval.

"There was a reason. Adam was going to study in Europe for a year, and Roseanne was afraid to wait alone in New York, for that long. She knew the pressure her brother would put on her."

"Anyways, when they came back from Europe, they took a house next to my father's. You see, Adam and my father were both in my case," said Frederick, who were all great friends. But my mother died when I was little, so Roseanne really brought me up. Her son, Jerry, and I were always together. It wasn't very surprising, I guess, when we married."

Hilda stopped, looking down at her hands, and Jenny urged her to go on.

"Not long after Addie was born, Jerry developed consumption. My father and the Thornes gave us the money to go to New Hampshire."

She looked up to explain. "It's a new idea that consumptives are helped by mountain air. But it didn't help Jerry. At least, not for long. And then, without any warning, we heard that our parents had all died in a cholera epidemic."

"Terrible, eh? Terrible!" Cousin Matthew muttered.

Jenny nodded and said to Hilda, "But what happened to you?"

"Jerry was too ill to go, so I went to take care of the burials. And then I found our parents had used all their small savings, keeping us in New Hampshire. I had the houses put up for sale, but they didn't bring much. She stopped again, realizing she couldn't tell about Jerry's unexplained appeal to the Russells.

"Then, Jerry died. And a few months later, my lawyer brought me Aunt Judith's kind offer. And here we are."

On the third morning that Hilda returned with Jenny from Miss Fitch's classes, her mind was absorbed in the problem of Addie. She went down the hall to Addie's bedroom. The door was shut. She turned the knob, but the door was locked, and there was no key.

"Addie? Addie, are you in there?" Hilda's anxiety made her sound sharp.

She heard the bedsprings creak inside the room.

"Monna, you're back!" He was whispering through the keyhole. "I can't get out. The witch lady locked me in!"

Hilda could hardly hear him, but she understood the witch lady to be Miss Maggy, and felt a sharp spasm of anger.

She made herself speak calmly. "Don't be afraid. I'm going to get the key and I'll be back."

Miss Maggy was alone, eating her lunch before the fireplace. She looked up quickly when Hilda burst in, and a smirk of pleasure creased her thin lips.

"So these are New England manners," she said. "No wonder the boy spends time in the stables."

"I don't know what you're talking about," Hilda snapped. "Give me that key!"

Miss Maggy patted her lips with her napkin, glancing up at the mantel clock. "In 20 minutes, he may be released. And he may have bread and milk."

Hilda clenched her fists close to

Porkers Win But Tied for 5th Place

By HAROLD V. RATLIFE Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Tech's worried Red Raiders snapped back from an unexpected licking to smash unexpected Baylor 81-62 and return to undisputed first place in Southwest Conference basketball last week.

The Raiders got valuable assistance from Southern Methodist, which also helped itself immensely by topping Texas A&M 54-51. It knocked the Aggies, who had just begun to swagger a little, out of a tie with Texas Tech for the lead.

Now Tech has a 6-2 record, a one-game lead over Texas A&M and Southern Methodist and rolls into the stretch in most excellent position to repeat with the championship.

The Red Raiders got both of the teams tied for second — Texas A&M and Southern Methodist — at Lubbock.

Texas stayed in the race with an 83-62 victory over Rice. And this result knocked the latter down to a tie for fifth place with Arkansas, neither team holding much hope now of figuring in the championship with their 4-4 records.

Arkansas downed Texas Christian 90-80. It pulled the Christians off cloud nine, where they had roosted since upsetting Texas Tech 65-63 last Tuesday.

Texas Christian is seventh with a 2-5 record, Baylor in last place, 1-7.

Texas Tech plays Southern Methodist at Lubbock Tuesday night while Texas A&M hosts Texas. As if the Raiders beat SMU and Texas trims Texas A&M, Tech would become a long favorite for the title. If A&M should win the race still would be quite tight but Texas would be out of it.

Arkansas and Rice clash at Houston and Baylor and Texas Christian get together at Fort Worth Tuesday night.

Plans were made for the training meeting which will be held on March 8 and the Home Management meeting which will be held on March 22.

After the business session, a pot luck luncheon was served.

Lincoln's Kin Planning No Celebration

By ARTHUR RISTAU MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP)—The mistress of "Hildene" planned "nothing special" today as millions of other Americans remembered the 153rd anniversary of the birth of her great-grandfather.

Mary Lincoln Beckwith, 63, says she is proud to be a member of the distinguished Lincoln family but thinks it illogical to "plan something for a relative who was dead before you were born."

Since 1938 she has operated the 1,000-acre dairy farm built by her grandfather, Robert Todd Lincoln, only son of the 16th president to reach maturity.

Her neighbors say Miss Beckwith doesn't much care about her distinguished ancestry.

"It always provokes me," she said, "when people stare and say, 'There's Lincoln's great-granddaughter.' It's just my luck he was related to me."

Her farm was built at the turn of the century, 30-odd years after Robert Lincoln first visited this southwestern Vermont town with his mother, Mary Todd Lincoln, while he was a Harvard undergraduate.

Her cousin, Lincoln Isham, 68, lives in nearby Dorset where he works on his collection of Lincolniana, much of which has been donated to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Her brother, Lincoln Beckwith,

Boyer Gets 33, Carlton Loops 24

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Tommy Boyer and Jerry Carlton teamed for 57 points Saturday night to pace Arkansas to a 90-80 Southwest Conference basketball victory over Texas Christian.

But it took the sharp shooting of sophomore Larry Wofford who hit three straight field goals with 8:09 left to give the Porkers a comfortable cushion.

Boyer dropped in 33 points and Carlton 24.

While both squads hit for 31 field goals it was at the free throw line that Arkansas raced ahead, collecting 28 to 18 for the Horned Frogs.

Phil Reynolds with 21 points and David Warrnell with 20 paced TCU's losing scoring attack.

In winning, Arkansas raised its conference card to an even 4-4 while TCU slipped to 2-4.

Showdown for Top Echelons of Basketball

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A showdown week in college basketball opens tonight, with a host of upper echelon teams due to meet head-on before the final shot is fired next Saturday.

The Southeastern Conference furnishes tonight's key attraction—Mississippi State at Kentucky. The defending champion Bulldogs are out to capture a share of the conference lead but will find the going rough against the streaking Wildcats, who have won 16 in a row counting Saturday night's 83-60 romp over Mississippi. Kentucky is 8-0 in the league and 17-1 over-all while Mississippi State is 10-1 and 7-1 after beating Tennessee 91-67 Saturday.

Ohio State, pace-setter in the nation and in the Big Ten, is at Michigan tonight. The Buckeyes (19-0) tied a record Saturday with their 23rd straight Big Ten victory as Jerry Lucas hit 14 of 15 field goal attempts and scored 34 points in a 91-66 rout of Minnesota.

Bradley (16-3) will be out to pad its Missouri Valley lead, entertaining Drake, while second-place Cincinnati (19-2) has a non-conference home game against George Washington. Bradley went out of the league Saturday night and barely nipped Louisville 80-79 on Chel Walker's last-ditch shot. Cincinnati beat Tulsa 70-52. These two rivals meet a week from tonight at Cincinnati.

Another conference leader, Colorado of the Big Eight, plays at home tonight against Oklahoma. The Buffs kept ahead Saturday by downing Nebraska 74-63 and Kansas State stayed right behind with a 65-59 decision over Missouri.

The Skyline race remained a scorcher, with Colorado State maintaining its half-game edge on Utah and Utah State. CSU beat Denver 77-62. Billy McGill exploded for 53 points as Utah whacked Montana 97-61 and Utah State got by Brigham Young 80-70. Big number of the week is Utah State at CSU Saturday.

Duke and Wake Forest, 1-2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, warm up with one game apiece before squaring off at Wake Forest Thursday. The Deacons are at home to Virginia tonight and Duke is at Maryland Tuesday night. The Blue Devils swamped Virginia 101-75 Saturday after Wake Forest had beaten North Carolina 87-80.

With the Border Title all wrapped up, Arizona State completes its conference schedule tonight at Hardin-Simmons. The Sun Devils (17-3) outpointed West Texas 107-103 Saturday night.

UCLA can go a long way toward the Big Five crown this weekend in a home-and-home series against Southern California. The Uclans stayed unbeaten in the conference by trimming Stanford Saturday 82-64, while Southern Cal lost to Stanford 67-56 Friday and rebounded over Washington 75-68.

Texas Tech regained first place in the Southwest Conference with its 81-62 victory over Baylor coupled with Southern Methodist's 59-44 decision against Texas A&M. Tech plays host to SMU Tuesday night and the Aggies, tied with SMU for second, have a home game with Texas.

Cornell plays at Yale for top spot in the Ivy League Friday night. The Red Raiders overcame Penn 60-50 Saturday and the Elis kept pace by defeating Dartmouth 85-72.

In other key conference action—West Virginia clinched the Southern's regular season title, drubbing George Washington 87-62; Mid-American leader Bowling Green shaded Marshall 73-70; St. Mary's (Calif.) retained its perfect record in the WCAC, ripping San Francisco 74-60; St. Joseph's (Pa.) took sole possession of the Middle Atlantic lead in a 72-71 squeaker with Delaware and next faces second place, Gettysburg Tuesday night at Philadelphia; and Massachusetts held its game and a half advantage in the Yankee Conference, clipping Maine 72-66.

Arkansans at Kansas City Meet

KANSAS CITY, MO. FEB. 9 — PARTICIPATING in the Ninth Junior Poultry and Egg Fact Finding Conference here are representatives from 24 states including a delegation from Arkansas. Delegates and their leaders are: Lonnie Luther, 16, Rt. 6, Fayetteville, Charles McCorkle, Rt. 4, Hope, Virginia Story, 19, Rt. 1, Gentry, Ronnie Ringer, 15, N. Little Rock and Ruben H. Johnson, extension Poultryman, University of Arkansas, Little Rock. The conference, with more than 135 young poultrymen and leaders in held in conjunction with the Poultry Fact Finding Conference For Business sponsored by the Institute of American Poultry Industries. Trips for the Arkansas delegates were provided by the Arkansas Poultry Federation.

UNITY—Presentation of a statuette of a Charro, the legendary cowboy of Mexico, was an expression of goodwill between the people of Mexico and the people of the U.S. It came from the National Association of Cowboys in Mexico City to the Rodeo Cowboys Association during the rodeo finals in Dallas. Harley May, Cowboys president, left, accepts the gift from Robert H. Burck, Braniff vice president.

Goalie Recovers From Injury

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Goalie Gump Worsley has recovered from his elbow injury and is ready to return to the New York Rangers nets. But it looks like substitute Marcel Paille may not let him.

The Rangers, locked in a battle with Detroit in the only closely contested race now in progress in the National Hockey League, hastily summoned Paille from Springfield last Sunday when Worsley was injured.

They haven't lost since, and have climbed from fifth to a two-point lead over Detroit in the fight for fourth place, the last playoff spot. Importantly, Paille hasn't allowed a goal in the final period of any of the four games.

The Rangers were trailing by one goal going into the final period Sunday night when the husky French-Canadian goalie again shut the door and New York came up with a 5-3 triumph over Boston.

Montreal, streaking toward another regular season championship, rallied for a 4-3 verdict over slumping Chicago and Detroit, blasted Toronto 5-0 in the other games.

Clay Wins But Dropped by Banks

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay must be developing an inferiority complex, he admits he's human.

And for Cassius that's quite an admission.

The undefeated, 20-year-old Louisville heavyweight, unbeaten since winning the 1960 Olympic light heavyweight crown, has been hollering for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, top contender Sonny Liston, Ingemar Johansson, and any of the other top ranking big boys.

Saturday night Cassius suffered the embarrassment of being dropped on his pants by little known Sonny Banks of Detroit before he stopped the 21-year-old underdog in 26 seconds of the fourth round at Madison Square Garden.

"He caught me good with that left hook," said Cassius, adding it was the first time he was floored in his 11 pro fights, all victories.

"Maybe I needed that," said Cassius. "Won all my 10 other fights easy. No trouble at all. Now I guess I'm human. Every now and then I gotta get hit in the head to realize I'm like other people."

This was a new, humble attitude. It lasted about 10 seconds.

"Bring on that Patterson (heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson) now," he shouted, almost as if he had gotten his second wind. "I told you that Banks would fall in four. Cleroux will fall, too."

One of his managers, Bill Faversham, had just accepted a Garden offer for Clay to meet Canadian heavyweight champion Bob Cleroux on March 31. But 24 hours later Cleroux' camp announced it had rejected the bid.

Little Fish Got the Only Prize

COLMAN, S.D. (AP) — Some 1,200 participants and more than 3,000 spectators cheered Sunday as Rich Closs landed the biggest fish in the annual ice fishing derby at Lake Madison.

The De Smet, S.D., angler won first prize, a 14-foot boat, on his catch—a four-ounce perch.

Other prizes were awarded by lot. Closs's perch was the only fish caught.

Palmer Will Slow Down Tourney Play

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Golf's No. 1 miracle-maker, Arnold Palmer, is going to play only one tournament in the next five weeks, much to the pleasure of his fellow pros.

The long-driving Miami, Fla., pro has said for some time he needs a rest. After his performance in the $35,000 Phoenix Open many rivals agree.

Palmer won his second straight Phoenix title with a 72-hole score of 289, just one stroke off the course record. His nearest competitors were 12 strokes off the pace.

The victory margin was also the largest ever for a PGA event. "My driving was by far the greatest reason for the big margin," Palmer said as he pocketed the $5,300 top money. "Those long irons came through for me several times."

The rest can't hurt him financially either. The 32-year-old golden boy is golfdom's third greatest money winner with total earnings of $275,754.76. He is only $7,200 short of Gary Middlecoff's career total and $9,000 behind Doug Ford.

It's been all Palmer the past two weeks. Before Phoenix he won the rich Palm Springs Classic.

He tucked away the Phoenix tourney with a five-under-par 66, his eighth sub-par round in his last nine. He never was seriously threatened after his opening 64 at Phoenix.

Sharing second-place money at 281 were Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 national amateur and intercollegiate champion, Bob McCallister, Don Fairfield and Bill Casper. They won $2,300 each.

Fayetteville Still Rated Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press' Arkansas schoolboy basketball poll remains fairly static this week, with Fayetteville still holding first place and Greene County Tech the only newcomer to the top 10.

Greene County moved into eighth place from 12th while Little Rock Central dropped out of the top 10.

Fayetteville got seven of the first place votes from the AP board of sports writers. Little Rock held second place and Jonesboro ranked third. Then came North Little Rock and Blytheville. The top five were the same as last week.

Pine Bluff moved up to sixth place from seventh and White Hall went down from sixth to seventh. Smackover was ninth and Harrison 10th.

Hope Teams Drop a Pair to Camden

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats and Bobkittens dropped a pair of district games there Saturday night, as the Cats were edged out 47-43 and the Kittens lost by the same margin 35-31.

The Bobcats, worn out after their previous hard fought game with Smackover, held out three quarters, but faltered in the final one. They led 13-11 in the first quarter, but were tied 22 all at the half. They went out (rout 32-29 going into the final quarter, but were out-gunned 47-43 there.

Jeffery Powell was high for Hope with 20 points, stretching his district total to 124, which should put him in the top four. Hatfield sank 8, Porterfield 7, Roberts 5, Murphy 2, and Ruskin had 1.

The Kittens suffered a similar fate, holding on until the final quarter before faltering. They led 7-1, 15-11, 24-21 in the first three quarters and then were outscored 14-7 in the final period. Jordan was high with 9, McNatt had 6, Martin 5, Guerin 3, and Ingram, Billings and Parris 2 each. This ended the regular season for the Kittens, but they enter the district tournament at Malvern Tuesday night as they meet Crossett at 6 p.m.

Tuesday the Bobcats and senior girls travel to Gurdin for a pair of games there, and Saturday the Cats and "B" team go to Magnolia.
